Read Carefully: Responsibility Statement and Liability Disclaimer

Historia Expeditions (Historia) acts only as an agent for the respective suppliers by arranging for transportation, accommodations, other services, and facilities. Historia’s responsibility is limited to that of an agent. Historia shall not be held liable for personal injury, death, property damage or accident, delay or irregularity arising out of the act, negligence, or omission of any direct carrier, hotel or travel service or other person rendering any of the services being offered regarding the expeditions. Historia reserves the right, without penalty, to make changes in the published itinerary whenever in their judgment, conditions warrant, or if they deem it necessary for the comfort, convenience, or safety of tour participants. Historia also reserves the right to withdraw the tour announced, decline to accept any person as a participant on a tour, or to require any participant to withdraw from the tour at any time, when such action is determined by tour staff to be in the best interests of the health, safety or general welfare of the tour group or the individual participant. In such a case, a refund equal to the actual cost of the unused services is the limit of Historia’s responsibility. Historia accepts no liability for the purchase of non-refundable airline tickets to the tour departure city and return. Baggage and personal effects are at all times the sole responsibility of the participant. Dates, schedules, program details, and costs, although provided in good faith based on information available at the time of publication of the brochure, are subject to change and revision.
